The Vice-Chancellor highlighted a number of the items in his report:

Chemistry incident

The Crisis Management Team which had been established to deal with the incident in Chemistry had carried out its work in an exemplary fashion. The Chief Operating Officer reported that, on 25 September 2012, the Health and Safety Executive had given the go ahead to the University to reopen the areas that had been closed. The results of the testing, conducted by external agencies and by the University, had confirmed that there were no contamination issues. The arrangements for using thallium had been moved under central control until an externally led review had been completed of the policy, procedures and handling of dangerous materials. The Police were continuing their investigation.

Together with the Students’ Union, the University would continue to work to enhance the student experience.

Mr Ling presented his report, drawing attention to the work of the sabbatical officers to establish priorities for the year ahead, the Union’s five-year plan, and the recent registering of the Union as a company limited by guarantee with charitable status. There had been further investment in the Union building with the refurbishment of the ‘Bridge Bar’, a meeting place and venue for entertainment, particularly for postgraduates and international students.

Turning to the National Student Survey, Mr Ling was pleased to report that students’ satisfaction with the Union was ranked in the top five of Russell Group institutions, and 19th in the UK. In the coming year, steps would be taken to start addressing the shortcomings in areas that had been highlighted in the Survey.

Commenting on the section on the UK Border Agency, Professor Spearing said that he believed the Government understood the (potential) damage to the sector’s reputation abroad. The University’s procedures in the area were up to date and had recently been strengthened.
