

Accredited Institutions

The following institution is accredited by the University:

The University of Chichester

The University of Chichester is accredited by the University of Southampton to offer research degree programmes leading to University of Southampton qualifications under arrangements governed by the Accreditation Handbook and under the aegis of the University of Southampton's External Research Degrees Committee (ERDC) which reports to Senate through the Academic Quality and Standards Committee. Such awards are governed by the Regulations for Research Degrees as set out in Section V of the University Calendar.