

The Ordinances Part 5: Affiliated and Accredited Institutions

5.1 Affiliated Institutions

The following institution is affiliated to the University:
University of Chichester

5.2 Accredited Institutions

The following institution is accredited by the University to offer programmes of study leading to University of Southampton qualifications under arrangements governed by an Instrument of Accreditation:

University of Chichester

Notes:

The University of Winchester was formerly an accredited institution of the University of Southampton. It was granted research degree awarding powers on 15 August 2008. The accreditation arrangement with the University of Southampton formally ended in early 2013 when the last research student was awarded a degree under this arrangement. Further details can be accessed in the Archive 2013/14.

In September 2014, the University of Chichester received notification from the Privy Council that its submission in respect of research degree awarding powers had been successful.
